Feedback

From the very beginning everything was seamless, from sales to design to project management and through to commission. RM were a great company and the people involved in this project were extremely helpful, polite and represented RM Group very well. All questions were answered quickly, design changes were altered quickly and without any complaints. We are very happy with the way this project went and are currently looking at using RM for future contracts.

Feedback

RM Group have been a pleasure to purchase from, and impressed us from the very outset. Their design, manufacture, installation and commissioning teams were second to none. All of their employees are a credit to them, well mannered, hard working, extremely competent and dedicated to their job. We wouldn't hesitate to use their services in future!
